Higher Horizons | Save the date - 25th June | 6pm – 7pm

Yeovil College is hosting 'Higher Horizons', a virtual webinar dedicated to support parents and guardians of young people, to better understand the educational journey that takes place from Year 8, through Further Education and into Higher Education.

This webinar will provide an independent view on the journey from the way up to Higher Education, showcasing all the opportunities along the way. We will discuss the difference between school, Further Education and Higher Education, as well as cover how to access the two later pathways. If you wish to learn more, please scan our QR code.

Construction Expo

Recently, we welcomed a range of local companies to support our annual Construction Trade Expo. Learners were engaged in demonstrations, gained a better understanding of the industry needs, spoke with potential future employers about job roles and apprenticeships and started making plans for their future.

Time To Shine

This month, Yeovil College held Time to Shine – a bespoke apprenticeship recruitment event tailored to our current Yeovil College students! The day enabled many important connections to be made between local employers currently looking for apprentices and current students looking for an apprenticeship. The event embraced a 'speed-dating' style, where first impressions really counted for our students, with short interviews being conducted by employers on the day.

Supported Internships: Announcing Partnership with Thales

Working in partnership with Discovery, Project Search and Yeovil College, Thales Under Water Systems in Templecombe are providing Supported Internships for Young Adults with SEND, with roles being offered across a range of departments including engineering, project management and industry.

Each working day, the Interns will take part in employability lessons, allowing them to discuss and reflect on what they have learnt.

Meet our...SEND team!

We are delighted to introduce the fabulous YC SEND Team – Sophia, Karen and Melanie.

Our SEND team act as a safety net for students, putting measures in place to ensure that everyone has a positive experience at College, and that their needs are supported, ensuring that:

Young people and their families are central to the of discussions around the support we provide;

The support offered takes into account young people's health, care and educational needs as set out in their EHCP or as assessed elsewhere;

Person-centred reviews are provided ensuring young people meet their individualised goals and their EHCP outcomes are reviewed effectively;

We work closely with the young person's local authority to access all aspects of the services available in the area;

We focus and prepare young people for adulthood, including employment, independent living or higher level courses.

The curriculum provides opportunities for students with learning difficulties to progress and achieve towards their preparation to adulthood.
